Group Approval for Price Tag on Soil Bank

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (UP) — A billion-dollar price tag on the administration's soil bank plan received general approval today from members of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse told the committee yesterday plans now call for asking farmers to take 44 to 50 million acres out of production. The government would pay them from $80 million to a billion dollars.

Payment to individual farmers would vary widely under the two-part program. For inverting land from wheat, cotton, corn and rice, they would receive half this year's support price on the crops they could have expected from the diverted land. Under a longer range program for planting grass and trees, they would receive $10 an acre rental, plus 80 per cent of the cost of replanting—an average $9 an acre.

"I think most members of my committee were favorably impressed," Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee, told newsmen.

"It's more generous than some expected," said Sen. Aiken (R-Va.), senior GOP member.

Chairman Ellender called the committee back into closed-door session today for "tentative decisions" on major features of the new legislation.

Counterfeit Nickles at River Bottom

WASHINGTON (UP) — Somewhere deep in the mud of the Cooper River off Haddonfield, N.J., he $250 worth of counterfeit nickels.

Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman, in testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee, tells this story of how they got there:

Francis Leroy Hennings began in June 1953 to make half dollars, quarters and dimes at Erial, N.J. Hennings thought his coins were "prettier than the government's," but he decided to throw them in the river and make nickels instead.

So in June 1954 he started punching out $5,000 worth of nickels. Posing as a vending machine owner, he successfully deposited $5,000 of them in banks. He threw the rest into the river at Haddonfield and left town.

But Baughman hole out little hope for any treasure seekers now.

After his agents caught up with Hennings, Baughman said, the Secret Service, Philadelphia police, Camden County, N.J., park police and a U. S. Army team with electronic mine-detection equipment teamed up to recover the phony money. They found $750 worth.

"The majority of the remaining coins have sunk so deep in the mud that it will be impossible to make further recoveries," Baughman said.

Russians Told of Bulgarian's Offer

MOSCOW (UP) — Moscow radio told the Russian people for the first time today that President Eisenhower had rejected Soviet Premier Bulgarian's proposal for a 20-year Soviet-U. S. friendship treaty.

The Soviet government radio followed its first broadcast of the U. S. President's week-old letter immediately with the text of Bulgarian's new letter asking the President to reconsider the proposal.

Eisenhower's rejection was made public in Washington last Saturday. But Moscow radio ignored it in concentrate on pushing out favorable reactions to Bulgarian's proposal.

This delay seemingly gave Bulgarian time to frame his second message — and so make sure the U. S. Presidents rejection would not monopolize attention when the Russians at last were told of it.

FIELD TRIAL SET

JONESBORO, (UP) — The Crowley Ridge League Club will hold its 6th annual A. K. C. Licensed Field Trial, a pack stake run non-swamp rabbits, near here Feb. 12.

Between 140 and 200 pounds are expected to be entered from Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Mississippi, Tennessee, Louisiana and Texas.

PORK-BARREL POLITICS? — Holding a caucus with his mascot is Henry Krajewski, American Third Party candidate in the 1956 presidential race. The former pig farmer from Secaucus, N. J., is undaunted by his failure to defeat Eisenhower in 1952. His mascot's name, by the way, is "Little Miss Secaucus."

Roadblocks Set Up to Find Girl

PINE BLUFF, (UP) — A 14-year-old blonde girl disappeared yesterday at Little Rock, and State Police today said roadblocks were thrown up around this southeast Arkansas city in an effort to locate a car reported carrying a young girl who had been beaten.

The girl in the car — described as a muddy black 1949 Ford — was wrapped in a bloody blanket, witnesses told police at Pine Bluff.

The missing girl in Suzanne Clements, a student at East Side Junior High School at Little Rock, she is the daughter of T. Sgt. and Mrs. Louis H. Clements. Sgt. Clements is stationed at the Little Rock Air Force Base.

State Police said witnesses told them they saw the girl, apparently the victim of a beating, when the driver of the car stopped at a service station for water.

The driver of the car was described as a man between 30 and 35 years old, wearing shoes but no socks and badly in need of a haircut.

State Police said roadblocks were set up on U. S. Highways 270 and 67 around Pine Bluff.

Promotional Insurance Under Study

LITTLE ROCK, (UP) — State Bank Commissioner Dick Simpson said yesterday that all promotional life insurance ventures in Arkansas will get "careful scrutiny" from his office in the future.

The bank commissioner's statement referred to a recent sale of stock approved through his office which resulted in a 15 to 1 ratio on share prices.

The stock was sold by General Life Insurance Co. of Arkansas, for $15 per share to the general public, but organizing stockholders paid $1 per share for the same stock.

Simpson declared, "there will be no more such applications approved while I am in office."

Simpson thus joined forces with Insurance Commissioner Harvey Combs who promised to tighten regulations on newly-formed concerns. Combs recently said he would place all such applications in the future under his office.

Several days ago, Simpson was ordered to halt a promotional venture by the first Arkansas Investment Corp., which wanted to sell 225,000 shares of stock at $2 per share and then use the proceeds to organize a life insurance company.

This plan would apparently permit the organizers to obtain control of its planned insurance company with small personal investments.

Simpson said the General Insurance venture was approved by an assistant without his having detailed knowledge of the proposal. The commissioner claimed that a 15 to 1 ratio is too high. Combs said earlier this week that a two to one ratio would have been more "realistic."

It is up to the bank department to set the limitation of the ratio.

TOO MANY LOBBYISTS

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UP) — The Kentucky Senate has more lobbyists than lobby space. Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, the Senate's presiding officer, said senators had difficulty getting to and from the Senate chamber. He threatened arrests and fines unless ranks are thinned.

Between 140 and 200 pounds are expected to be entered from Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Mississippi, Tennessee, Louisiana and Texas.

Widow Declared Owner of $44,525

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (UP) — A 67-year-old widow has been declared the rightful owner of $44,525 found in a metal box by an iron worker at a building project last May.

Circuit Judge Bernard M. Decker ruled Mrs. June Siskind, a book-store operator, proved to his satisfaction that she owned the money. She testified her sister Mary Funk hid the money when they formerly lived on the property. She said she could not find the money box after her sister's death in 1949.

Albert Sorenson, 34, who found the money, said he was satisfied Mrs. Siskind proved it was her property. He said he was glad he had done the "honest thing," and had no regrets he had turned the money over to authorities.

Decker praised Sorenson and urged Mrs. Siskind to reward him liberally. She said Sorenson would be "treated fairly" in the matter of a reward.

New Funds for Post Office Recommended

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House Appropriations Committee today recommended $2,973,900,000 in new funds for the Post Office Department. At the same time, it demanded that something be done to curb the growing postal deficit.

The new money allotted subject to approval by the House next week and later by the Senate is less than President Eisenhower requested.

Gov. Orval Faubus announced the appointment of Steele yesterday, along with his selection of Gilbert Forsgren of Fort Smith to succeed the late Ralph O'Bryan on the state Co-licensing Board.

O'Bryan, whose term would have expired in three years, was killed earlier in the week when the small plane he was flying crashed near Morrilton.

U. S. to Lend Brazil $35 Million More

BOLTA REDONDA, Brazil (UP) — Vice President Richard Nixon announced today the United States will lend Brazil $35 million more dollars to expand her big Volta Redonda steel mill.

Already the recipient of 70 million dollars through the U. S.-controlled Export-Import Bank, the mill with the new loan will be able to boost its annual iron capacity from 650,000 to one million tons, Nixon said.

A high government source said Nixon had informed Brazil's new President Juscelino Kubitschek, Nixon had informed Brazil's new President, Juscelino Kubitschek, that the United States is willing to grant Brazil substantial economic aid provided his government take a strong stand against communism.

The informant said Kubitschek had assured Nixon he was asking the Communist party already is outlawed in Brazil and circulation of Communist literature is banned.

But foreigners have been perturbed because of the obvious support the Communists gave Kubitschek's running mate, Laborite Vice President Joao Goklart, in the presidential election.

Nixon made the loan announcement as he and Kubitschek toured this great steel center.

Simpson declared, "there will be no more such applications approved while I am in office."

Simpson thus joined forces with Insurance Commissioner Harvey Combs who promised to tighten regulations on newly-formed concerns. Combs recently said he would place all such applications in the future under his office.

"They were so good, it seemed a shame to waste them on a movie."

Don't Fear Russians, Eden Advises

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Eden winds up his five-day Washington visit today with this advice to the American people: Never be afraid to meet except for one vexing problem. A few years ago my fiancee sold her house and, from the money she realized, bank accounts of $1,000 each were started for each child.

Eden made this suggestion in a 15-minute radio-television report to the nation last night on his three-day conference with President Eisenhower.

He emphasized Anglo-American unity, just as he had in his mid-day talks to the Senate and House.

Calling his conversations with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles "the most encouraging conference I have ever attended," he said the real accomplishment was hard to describe. He termed it "a spirit of unity" and said holding to it "can mean peace for the world today." He said then he world forever."

"I know as nothing like it in the said he wanted to talk to those Americans who might object to any more talks with the Russians: "To those who may feel amongst you that you should never have contacts with those whose faith is the antithesis of your own, to those I would say I wouldn't myself take up that attitude."

"If you have confidence in yourself, if you believe in your own convictions, if you trust to your own faith, you needn't be afraid, you shouldn't be afraid, to meet and to argue with others."

He said the United States and Britain should continue their no-strings-attached program of economic and to less developed nations.

"Self-government and economic stability are the strongest antidotes to communism," he declared.

In referring to his talks with Eisenhower, Eden made no specific mention of differences which developed over such Far East questions as the West's trade embargo. Britain sought a relaxation but won only a U. S. agreement to review the situation.

But Eden did acknowledge that some differences exist. He pleaded that these should not be balloonized out of proportion into big headlines because, he said, essential Anglo-American unity is genuine and "so much more important."

DOROTHY DIX

Pair Disagree on Children's Money

Dear Miss Dix: I am a bachelor planning to marry a widow of 39. She has three children, all under 10. We are in complete harmony except for one vexing problem. A few years ago my fiancee sold her house and, from the money she realized, bank accounts of $1,000 each were started for each child.

She claims that under no circumstances will she touch this money; it is to be kept until they reach 21.

I feel it should be spent now for their necessary requirements.

When it is gone, I will take over all responsibility, if any. I have known this woman all my life, was a friend of her late husband and have seen the children grow. We expect to be married this spring. Do you think my suggestions are fair?

Answer: You state these contradictory bank accounts are for $1,000 each. This sum may seem large at present but when considered in the light of children's needs for the next 10 years at least it won't go very far. There's no question but what you will have to assume considerable financial responsibility for these youngsters and, unless you're willing to take it gracefully, the proposed marriage will be miserable for everyone concerned.

She's Wise

Your fiancee is wise in putting this money aside for possible emergencies or for the children's future education. I think it should be left where it is. After all, no matter how well you know each other, she is taking a risk in placing a stepfather over her children.

If she has the United States and Britain should continue their no-strings-attached program of economic and to less developed nations.

"Self-government and economic stability are the strongest antidotes to communism," he declared.
